Wellsboro Gazette.

VOL. XVII. WELLSBORO, TIOGA COUNTY, PA., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1890. NO. 11.

State Library July 90

Wellsboro Gazette.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY AT WELLSBORO, TIOGA COUNTY, PA.

TERMS OF PAPER:

One year, in advance.....$1.50
If not paid during the year.....2.00

WRIGHT & CONEVERY,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

TIME	1 in.	2 in.	3 in.	4 in.	5 in.	10 in.	20 in.
1 Week	$1 00	$2 00	$3 00	$4 00	$5 00	$8 00	$12 00
2 Weeks	1 50	3 00	4 00	5 00	6 00	11 00	16 00
3 Weeks	2 00	3 50	5 00	6 00	7 00	13 00	18 00
1 Month	2 50	4 00	6 00	7 00	8 00	15 00	20 00
2 Months	4 00	6 00	8 00	10 00	12 00	20 00	28 00
3 Months	5 00	8 00	12 00	15 00	15 00	25 00	35 00
6 Months	8 00	12 00	18 00	20 00	22 00	35 00	60 00
1 Year	12 00	18 00	24 00	28 00	32 00	60 00	100 00

BUSINESS NOTICES ON LOCAL PAGE.—Ten cents per line for first insertion, and five cents per line for every subsequent insertion. No business notice inserted for less than twenty-five cents.

ANNOUNCEMENTS of names of candidates for office, $5 each.

MARRIAGES AND DEATHS inserted free.

BUSINESS CARDS, $5 per year.

Double rates will be charged for figure or table work. Reasonable discounts to yearly advertisers.

No advertisement discontinued until all arrearages are paid, unless at the option of the publisher.

BUSINESS CARDS.

F. W. CLARK,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT Law, Mansfield, Pa. Collections promptly attended to.

GEO. W. MERRICK. ROBT. K. YOUNG.
MERRICK & YOUNG,
ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Wellsboro, Pa. Office in Cameron & Parsons new block.—May 14, 1888.

H. P. ERWIN,
MERCHANT TAILOR, Wellsboro, Pa. Fine custom tailoring at fair prices. Good fits guaranteed in every case. Shop over Agitator office.—Nov. 15, 1888.

WRIGHT & CONEVERY,
JOB PRINTERS, in Wright's new block, Main street, over the drug store. All kinds of Plain and Ornamental Job Printing executed with neatness and dispatch.

FRANK H. ROSE,
DENTIST. Office over C. C. Mathers & Co's. store, Wellsboro, Pa. Preserving of the natural teeth a specialty. All work warranted to give satisfaction.—Nov. 25, 1885.

GEO. W. NAYLE,
HARNESS MAKER, Crafton Street, between Main and Pearl, Wellsboro, Pa. Light and Heavy, Double and Single Harness made to order on short notice. The largest stock of Horse Furnishing Goods in Tioga county.—Mar. 6, 1888.

O. H. DAVIS,
GENERAL INSURANCE AGENCY. Established 1871. Leading English and American companies represented. Special facilities for insuring farm property. Office on second floor in Wright's Block, next to Gazette office, Main street, Wellsboro, Pa.—Nov. 23, 1885-ly.

RAILWAY GUIDE.

FALL BROOK COAL CO'S RAILWAYS.

Train effect May 18, 1890.

Syracuse, Geneva & Corning Division.

Going North (Read up.) 6	4	2	STATIONS.	1	3	5	Going South (Read down.)
P.M.	P.M.	A.M.		A.M.	P.M.	P.M.
8 25	2 35	9 50	Lyons	7 25	12 10	6 25
7 55	1 55	9 20	Geneva	8 00	12 40	6 50
7 25	1 25	8 53	Dresden	8 33	1 25	7 25
7 00	1 05	8 35	Penn Yan	9 00	1 55	7 45
6 50	12 55	8 25	Dundee	9 15	2 15	7 55
6 37	12 33	8 02	Watkins Glen	9 42	2 48	8 13
6 00	12 03	7 33	Beaver Dams	10 12	3 21	8 42
5 40	11 40	7 15	Dp Corning Ar	10 30	4 00	9 00

Corning, Cowanesque & Antrim Div.

9	10	8	STATIONS.	1	3	7
P.M.	A.M.	A.M.		P.M.	P.M.	P.M.
3 50			Dp Antrim Ar	1 00
3 10			*Summit	12 42
3 05			*Round Top	12 30
2 55	11 45	7 05	Hillsdale	12 20	6 10	7 20
2 37	11 32	7 10	Stokesdale	12 08	6 02	7 12
2 05	12 15	7 12	Stokes Junction	12 05	6 00	7 10
1 11	12 27	7 40	Niles Valley	11 49	5 47	7 03
1 14	12 25	7 23	Middlebury	11 45	5 43	7 00
1 18	12 20	7 27	Holiday	11 40	5 38	6 55
1 26	12 40	7 36	*Hammond	11 32	5 29	6 47
1 33	12 50	7 45	Tioga	11 25	5 20	6 38
1 43	1 02	7 55	Lathrop	11 16	5 10	6 28
1 55	1 10	8 05	Lawrenceville	11 06	4 55	6 22
2 02	1 17	8 11	Lindley	11 03	4 48	6 15
2 40	1 27	8 20	Presho	10 55	4 38	6 06
3 30	1 50	8 40	Ar Corning Dp	10 30	4 15	5 45

Pine Creek Division.

10	6	STATIONS.	1	3
P.M.	P.M.		P.M.	P.M.
12 15	4 15	WELLSBORO	11 45	5 53
12 08	4 07	Stokes Dale	11 52	5 46
12 00	4 00	Stokes Junction	12 05	5 00
11 41	3 50	*Mine Creek	12 17	5 14
11 31	3 44	*Antrim	12 22	5 20
11 16	3 35	Tioga Junction	12 32	5 30
11 00	3 27	Mansfield	12 42	5 41
10 50	3 10	Blossburg	1 15	7 15
10 13	2 50	Cedar Run	1 28	7 30
9 55	2 15	Watrous	2 15	8 27
8 00	1 45	Jersey Shore	2 45	9 00
7 35	1 15	Newberry Junction	3 15	9 35
7 25	1 05	Williamsport	3 25	9 45
A.M.	P.M.		P.M.	P.M.

Cowanesque Branch.

24	8	STATIONS.	1	7	23
P.M.	P.M.		A.M.	P.M.	A.M.
6 [illegible]	[illegible]	Dp Addison Ar	10 35	5 45	6 20
4 [illegible]	[illegible]	Lawrenceville	11 15	6 25	8 0[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	11 [illegible]	6 [illegible]	8 [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	11 [illegible]	7 [illegible]	9 [illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

Wellsboro Gazette

THURSDAY, [illegible]

FRED K. WHITNEY, FRANK COVENEY,
Writers and Proprietors.

"It is stated that Ex-Auditor General Niles is a candidate for the United States Senatorship," says the Towanda Reporter-Journal. "In case of an anti-Cameron storm Senatorial lightning has a precedent for striking in Wellsboro."

It is said that Chauncey F. Black is a candidate for the Democratic caucus nomination for United States Senator, and that his friends are active in his behalf. It is understood that ex-Senator Wallace does not aspire to the honor.

THE Young Men's Democratic Association, of Philadelphia, gave a reception to Governor-elect Pattison, his associates on the Democratic ticket and Chairman Kerr, last evening. Democrats from all parts of the State were present.

CHAIRMAN ANDREWS, of the Republican State Committee, solemnly asserts that the result in this State was due to "mistakes of the voters." The World says: "He might as well have borrowed a reason from Col Ingersoll and attributed it to some mistake of Moses."

GEORGE WALLACE DELAMATER with a stupidity which explains his acts in the recent campaign, announces himself a candidate for the United States Senate. Pennsylvania should be represented in the Senate by a man of ability and integrity. Delamater does not possess these qualities.

REPUBLICAN prevaricators said the passage of the McKinley bill would be followed by an era of unprecedented prosperity. The number of big firms which have failed and the panic in financial circles since the bill became a law would appear to give the lie direct to this assertion. Legislation in the interests of monopolies doesn't mean prosperity for the people.

THE Agitator wastes considerable of its valuable (?) space this week in still trying to make the public believe that the McKinley bill was framed and passed in the Agitator office. A column or "degrading boiler plate" would probably have suited its readers better. The Agitator can't make people believe that it framed and passed the new tariff law. It should confine itself to explaining why it supported an "unfit candidate" for Governor and was forced to adopt the use of stereotype plates.

SECRETARY EDGE, of the State Board of Agriculture, has made a careful estimate of property and taxation in the State. The claim that the farmers are taxed higher than other property does not figure well in the showing. The total value of taxable property in boroughs, $13,644,441; total tax rates in boroughs, $180,825.81; tax rate in boroughs, 13.16. Total value of taxable property outside boroughs, $325,361,72; tax rate outside boroughs, 9.45; tax in boroughs, 3.71 mills more than in the country. A $10,000 house pays about $37.10 more than does a $10,000 farm.

QUAY, though very reticent, has been interviewed by a Florida reporter. When questioned in regard to Pennsylvania affairs he shrugged his shoulders and remarked: "Pennsylvania politics can do without me for a while and not suffer. I'm sure, at any rate, I can do without them." This would seem to indicate that Quay, with all its political notoriety, is the possessor of more sense than Delamater. He knows when he receives a heavy slap in the face. Delamater, however, owing to his dull perceptive powers, cannot appreciate the rebuff he received on November 4th, and seeks another by striving to secure the nomination for United States Senator.

"REPORTS are in circulation concerning irregularities in the holding of the election in Tioga county on the 4th inst., which, if true, call for investigation," says the Bellefonte Watchman. "They point to practices which cut down Mr. Elliott's vote to an extent that made a majority appear against him. It is due to that gentleman, as well as to the honest people of the whole country, that these irregularities should be looked into. It is said that Mr. Elliott's friends, having learned of this crookedness, are about to bring the matter before the courts in the shape of a contest. Reports had Mr. Elliott dead a few days after election, but if the rumors about Republican frauds in Tioga county are substantiated, Mr. Elliott will be found not only alive but kicking."

[illegible]

Wellsboro Weblter the [illegible] medium does a man change after cast [illegible] "Yesterday man is educated in his [illegible] Hon. R. F. Horne on Tuesday evening. That son [illegible] qualified as far as [illegible] a man's character is concerned. A man's character [illegible] what is actually a part of him. It does not make him [illegible] he is not already so. Somebody has said 'Teaching is an art.' Take an other art, it can be seen as in it is found [illegible] character. A painter [illegible] of sympathy, of earnestness akin to that of the Divine Teacher.

Supt Reesly at the conclusion of Dr Shaw's remarks announced the following Committee on Permanent Certificates: M. E. Cass, Nelson; J. W. Burman, Mansfield; A. B. Hitchcock, Knoxville; Miss Ida Lounsbury, Canoe Camp; and Miss Rose H. Judge, Mansfield.

During the next period Prof. Cass continued his talk on "History." A long and varied experience makes Prof. Cass remarks on almost any subject practically applicable to every school in Tioga county. For this reason his instruction was of great value to the Institute.

Dr. A. R. Horne next gave a most interesting lecture on the "Geography of Pennsylvania," which closed the exercises of the morning session.

The first period was taken up by Dr. Findly in [illegible] his subject of reading.

Mrs. Edmonds, of Osceola, read a very [illegible] on "Physiology and Hygiene." [illegible]

[illegible] W. C. T. U., of [illegible]

Prof. [illegible] of the 21st [illegible] of "Dictation Exercises."

Dr. A. R. Horne [illegible] of the Institute [illegible]

[illegible] the Institute [illegible] the Institute [illegible] after his defeat as an "unfit candidate" says:

"The whole course of the Agitator for the past three years has been [illegible] sent; a medley of contradictions. It told before the meeting of the Legislature one year ago that the laws were unequal and unjust and should be corrected. Later on it supported the law which made the laws more unequal, the Judge who made the decision, and condemned two of the Legislature who voted for the law as 'good men' and whose record was 'first class.' It found fault with Commissioner Wheeler for taking a free pass, but supported for office candidates in its own party guilty of the same offense. As a matter of fact it has shown itself entirely incapable to instruct its readers honestly. It shields the crime of perjury, forgery and bribery against one candidate and finds fault with another man, out of its party, guilty of perjury. It shows that its partisanship is of the rankest kind and that it would stoop to anything low and any intrigue to secure the election of the candidates of its party. Such a journal is a menace to the good morals of a community. Its corrupting influence is dangerous to the welfare of the party it professes to support.

"The heartless manner in which it berates both Delamater and Quay, after giving both its hearty support, exhibits the traits of Judas to a glaring extent. When they were on top the Agitator was with them and hurrahed lustily for them. But defeated the Agitator has no use for them, and attempts to point out a moral in their downfall, which is, to say the least, most ungrateful. The poor Agitator may continue to wobble from one side to the other, but it has long ceased to have any influence with the decent men of any party. It is a dead duck, and its faint quacking don't have any effect with thinking men."

CLOSE OF THE INSTITUTE.

What Was Done at the Last Two Days of the Session.

The GAZETTE's report of the proceedings of the Teachers' Institute closed last week at the conclusion of the Wednesday afternoon session.

The lecture of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore in the evening, on the "Boy of To-Day," was remarkable for its length. "The Boy of To-Day" was a disappointment to many of Mrs. Livermore's admirers as a lecturer. It is complained that in handling the subject the lecturer attempted to cover too much ground, causing her to deliver a rambling and uninteresting discourse.

The opening exercises on Thursday morning were conducted by Dr. Findly and Prof. Cogswell, after which Dr. Findly continued his remarks on "The Recitation." He said a teacher should have a definite purpose in conducting a recitation. The first object necessary is stimulation. This is, after all, the main end of instruction. By stimulation is meant the preparing of the mind for receiving knowledge. The exciting of the minds of the pupils, so that they are in a receptive state, is thus the most important aim of the recitation.

One of the most excellent addresses to the Institute was delivered during the last period by Rev. Dr. Shaw, of the Presbyterian Church, on "Manliness as a Product of the School Room." Dr. Shaw stated that he would confine his remarks to moral excellence, of which no definition can be given. But all understand, nevertheless, what is meant by moral excellence, or manliness. It has always meant the same thing in times past, as in the present. We sometimes meet well educated, even cultured men and women, whose powers of usefulness are crippled by a lack of cultivated sympathies. A little boy once complained that another boy had hurt him. Upon inquiry it was found that no blows had been given, no words had been spoken between the two urchins. "How then did this boy hurt you?" was asked of the small plaintiff. "He kind-o' wagged his head at me," was the reply. This sometimes seems to be the only attitude of many who have received a classical education. A wagging of the head at any and every attempt to better and uplift humanity. This cold, critical spirit shows a want of education in manliness. The difference between an educated and an uneducated man may be illustrated by the steamship and sailing vessel. The one is perfectly equipped, the other crude. But whether the one is of more importance than the other, is determined by the errand upon which each is sent—the destination of each. Without a controlling purpose a well-equipped life fails of its destiny. Manliness or moral character may be looked upon as the only safe guide. A man is always controlled by his moral character. What his morals are he is, and another fact important is that no one is so well attested [illegible] character is to be [illegible] teaches twenty-one [illegible] does a man change after cast [illegible] "Yesterday man is educated in his [illegible] Hon. R. F. Horne on Tuesday evening. That son [illegible] qualified as far as [illegible] character is concerned. A man's character [illegible] what is actually a part of him. It does not make him [illegible] he is not already so. Somebody has said 'Teaching is an art.' Take any other art, it can be seen as in it is found [illegible] character. A painter [illegible] of sympathy, of earnestness akin to that of the Divine Teacher.

Supt Reesly at the conclusion of Dr Shaw's remarks announced the following Committee on Permanent Certificates: M. E. Cass, Nelson; J. W. Burman, Mansfield; A. B. Hitchcock, Knoxville; Miss Ida Lounsbury, Canoe Camp; and Miss Rose H. Judge, Mansfield.

During the next period Prof. Cass continued his talk on "History." A long and varied experience makes Prof. Cass remarks on almost any subject practically applicable to every school in Tioga county. For this reason his instruction was of great value to the Institute.

Dr. A. R. Horne next gave a most interesting lecture on the "Geography of Pennsylvania," which closed the exercises of the morning session.

The first period was taken up by Dr. Findly in [illegible] his subject of reading.

Mrs. Edmonds, of Osceola, read a very [illegible] on "Physiology and Hygiene." [illegible]

[illegible] W. C. T. U., of [illegible]

Prof. [illegible] of the 21st [illegible] of "Dictation Exercises."

Dr. A. R. Horne [illegible] of the Institute [illegible]

[illegible] the Institute [illegible] the Institute [illegible] the [illegible] of to day till the close of the [illegible] this listener drew a [illegible] and telling word picture. Mr. Hall does not work for a dramatic effect in delivering his lecture; but his intense earnestness accomplishes more than this old school method of oratory, in that it impresses his hearers with the fact that he believes what he says, and is not compelled to throw himself into spasms of mental anguish to give artistic emphasis to points which would not otherwise be perceptible. The coming man, he said, would be an American, whose liberality of mind would only be equalled by the narrow, contracted and bigoted spirit of the man of to-day. The future man will interest himself largely in developing the agricultural resources of the country. He will also be willing to give the right of suffrage to his wife and sister. In brief, "The Coming Man" pleased the audience, and should Mr. Hall again visit Wellsboro as a lecturer he will be sure of a crowded house.

FRIDAY MORNING.

After the usual morning exercises the Committee on Resolutions made the following report, which, after an amendment, was adopted:

Whereas, We, the teachers of Tioga county in convention assembled, offer to the All-wise Father our grateful thanks for His providential care during the past year. While we deeply feel the loss of our State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. E. E. Higbee, whose kindly face we have so often seen with us, we believe that our lives are in the hands of an Omniscient Creator who doeth all things well, and that we must not forget our duties to the living while sorrowing for the dead. Therefore, be it

Resolved, That thanks are due to the people of Wellsboro for their hospitality so kindly extended to us; to our Superintendent and instructors for the able manner in which they have conducted the Institute; to the railroad officials for reduced rates; and to the Fall Brook Coal Company for an extra train.

Resolved, That we, teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, ask that the State appropriation be raised from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000, and that salaries of teachers be proportionately raised.

Resolved, That we recognize in our new County Superintendent, H. E. Reesly, a leader eminently efficient, earnest and just; that we congratulate him on the success of his first Institute, and extend to him our loyal and hearty support in his work.

A. EDWARDS,
EMMA J. HARKNESS, G. B. STREAIT,
CARRIE J. HASTINGS, C. B. CLARK.

A report of the Committee on Permanent Certificates was then submitted by Prof. Cass, the chairman. He appointed Saturday for examinations on the first [illegible] Friday after January 1, 1891, at a place to be hereafter decided. All desiring to secure permanent certificates are requested to send their names to Miss Rose H. Judge, of Mansfield, secretary of the committee, with the proper official endorsement.

The next period was occupied by Mr. Lloyd Smith, who presented some facts relative to the qualities and merits of steel pens.

Then after giving a short exercise in music Prof. Cogswell said good bye to the Institute. He was followed by Dr. A. R. Horne with a few farewell remarks. It may not be out of place to mention here that Supt. Reesly's father was at one time a pupil of Dr. Horne.

Dr. Findly next finished his lecture on "The Recitation," and bade the Institute a courteous adieu.

After Prof. Cass had answered a few questions on language, Supt. Reesly addressed a few parting words to the assembled teachers and the Institute was adjourned by the singing of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

Some Reasons Why Papers in Proper to News-papers and Their Patrons.

Editors of Gazette:—It seems to be a prevailing opinion with a great many people that a village paper is run on a different principle from any other business—that it certainly cannot be published for the sake of money. If they would think seriously in regard to the matter a little further they would have to confess that that must be just what they were doing it for. Let us compare notes a little and see why an editor should be thought to be any different from other mortals. The grocery man fills his store with the best goods and gives his customers the benefit of his large stock, both in regard to quality and price. The dry goods merchant does the same in his line of goods, aiming to secure the best bargains for his customers. The same is the case with the shoe dealer, the clothier, and each branch of legitimate business. The main idea is to please their patrons and to give value received, but they insist, and have a right to, that their patrons must pay for what they get. Securing them from any early slip is one of the first steps with our manufacturing interests, whether it be a box of glass sash and blinds for mitre, wagons or buggies and [illegible] pieces, everything else good enough [illegible] the first thing demanded. It is a correct business principle, [illegible] can not see any fault with it. But when it comes to the publishing of a village paper there is where a great many seem to draw the line.

They take the paper week after week and content themselves with the idea [illegible] wait and wait and pay when they get ready, and at the time the editors are giving them the best they can. But how does the editor live all this time, and how long on the natural course of events can an editor and his family live just because its patrons are good for a year's subscription? If he had limited means he would be of starvation while his patron great and generous were taking it easy. The dollar and a half of a perfect [illegible] man—one who thinks he is entitled if you ask him for the pay or shut down on him when he don't pay—will not go a bit farther, not pay for any more groceries or other goods than that of the poorest laborer on the street.

Why hold an editor just as good a right to ask some kind of security of his patrons as any other business man? Where a paper has 1,800 or more such names on its list and don't know how many are going to pay, we can't calculate how [illegible] for [illegible] rules in his [illegible] for the fun of the [illegible] he [illegible] all he has to pay the [illegible] of the [illegible] for the [illegible] the W. C. T. U., of [illegible]

[illegible] of the 21st [illegible] of "Dictation Exercises."

Dr. A. R. Horne [illegible] of the Institute [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Finally to [illegible] subject of reading.

Mrs. Edmonds, of Osceola, read a very [illegible] on "Physiology and Hygiene." [illegible]

[illegible] W. C. T. U., of [illegible]

Prof. [illegible] of the 21st [illegible] of "Dictation Exercises."

Dr. A. R. Horne [illegible] of the Institute [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[

Holiday Goods!

[illegible]

OLD [illegible]

[illegible] Very we[illegible] now [illegible] be taken, [illegible] who to buy.

Spalding's Corner Drug Store.

Paint Your Buildings

— IN THE FALL.

Your painter will surely advise this. In case you conclude to heed this suggestion,

Call and Get Free One of Our Sample Cards of Colors.

— SOLE AGENCY FOR —

JOHN'S ABESTOS

AND KELLOGG & MACDOUGALL'S AGED OIL PAINTS.

VAN HORN & JENNINGS

LOCAL NOTICES.

CRAYON picture and frame, $10, at Sweet's.

AN elegant new line of feathers, flowers, ribbons, etc., at the Fair.

TRIMMED Hats, Trimmed Bonnets and Millinery novelties at the Fair.

BENNET, Ladies' Tailor, over Pagan's jewelry store, Wellsboro, Pa.—Nov. 13-4t.

JUST what you want for a Christmas present. Some of your photographs made at Sweet's.

THE latest designs in Fall and Winter Millinery just received at Mrs. William Stewart's.—tf.

LADIES should call and examine the latest styles of Fall and Winter Millinery at Mrs. Wm Stewart's. tf.

TEN dollars will secure a crayon nicely framed and one dozen cabinet photographs at Bristol's gallery.—Nov.27-2t.

DON'T wait any longer. Delays are dangerous. If you want photographs for Christmas, have your negative made at once at Sweet's, Wellsboro's Photographer

WHY deny yourself when one cent a week extra for each member of your family pays the difference between ordinary trash and delicious Sancuta coffee.

THE beautiful oratorio of Ruth, the Moabitess, will be produced at Annandale Hall this (Thursday) evening and tomorrow evening. There will be a grand chorus of sixty voices, being all home talent, in full and elaborate costume prepared expressly for this entertainment.

REAL ESTATE AT HALF PRICE.—Hon. Henry Sherwood's old residence on Tioga street, with 9 acres, $2,500. Four houses and lots near glass factory, $500 and $600 each. One lot with double house on Crafton street, $1,000. One lot with double house on West Main street, $1,500. Five acres of land on Mead street, $600. Terms, one-fourth cash, balance one, two and three years. Enquire of Sherwood & Owlett, Wellsboro, Pa., or D. H. Belcher, Knoxville, Tenn.—November 13-8t.

Wellsboro Gazette.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1890.

New Advertisements.

One Century—The Century Co.
Business Change—O. G. Padgett.
Harper's Weekly—Harper & Brothers.
Harper's Magazine—Harper & Brothers.
Notice to Builders—A. B. A. Briggs, Chairman.

LOCAL AND COUNTY AFFAIRS.

—Thanksgiving.

—"Ruth" at Annandale to-night.

—Cherry Flats still has diphtheria.

—The sweet buy and buy—Christmas.

—Christmas dollars are being laid aside.

—Rabbits are very plentiful in Richmond.

—More dwelling houses are needed at Tioga.

—Malaria fever is prevalent at Roaring Branch.

—Coal thieves are troubling the people of Mansfield.

—The water question is still a leading topic at Westfield.

—Potatoes are cheap in this place at $1.00 cents a bush.

—There are indications of a boom in matrimonial matters

—Mrs. Thomas M[illegible] of Elkland, has moved to Bradford.

—A Children's Temperance League has been organized at Westfield.

—Mr. W. C. Russell of Thomas Run has moved his family into Tioga.

—A lodge of the Farmers Alliance has been organized in Chatham.

—On account of the scarcity of oysters the price has been advanced.

—G.W. Hamilton has been granted a patent on a pipe wrench.

—An exchange says "the higher the society the lower the dresses."

—It is said that the Antrim miners had only two days last week.

—The Twelfth Regiment Band, of Williamsport, has been reorganized.

—A cooper shop has been opened at Ansonia by Mr. E. Schoonmaker.

—Forty-five [illegible] there were examined at Tioga last Saturday.

—It is reported that a resident of Gaines [illegible] clothing nickel dollars.

—M. B. Pratt, jun., of Tioga, broke [illegible] a few days ago while coupling [illegible]

—[illegible] to be [illegible] at Mansfield.

—J. C. Co[illegible] of Westfield [illegible] at Westfield.

—[illegible] at the Tioga House [illegible]

—[illegible] of Dr. O. L. Green [illegible] of Wellsboro.

—[illegible] Tioga [illegible]

—[illegible] Mansfield [illegible] Fall Brook [illegible]

—[illegible] Fall Brook [illegible] Mansfield [illegible]

—[illegible] Fall Brook [illegible]

—[illegible] Fall Brook [illegible]

—[illegible] Fall Brook

Wellsboro Gazette.

THURSDAY, [illegible] MARCH 27, 1890.

[illegible]

For [illegible]
For all my [illegible] the
[illegible]
For [illegible] and [illegible]
(You [illegible] dim [illegible] or old—
We [illegible] and never [illegible] yet our
[illegible] and [illegible]
For [illegible] here [illegible] boys—
for [illegible] Rebels,
For all the brave, strong [illegible] hardly
[illegible] who've fought and [illegible] in Dixie's
[illegible] all [illegible]
For braver, stronger, more devoted still—(a special laurel are I go to life's warfare)—
The [illegible] of [illegible] and the girl the [illegible]
until [illegible] the [illegible] a soldier
[illegible] of the soul.)
As soldiers from an ended war returned—As travelers out of my way back to the long procession retreating,
Thus—a joyful [illegible]—a soldier's, traveler's thanks.

—Walt Whitman in New York World.

The American Forest.

BEFORE THE THANKSGIVING DINNER.

Happy, happy man!
Tripping gayly along the street,
Loaded down with tidbits sweet,
Loaded down with turkey fat,
Delicacies and all that
Happy, happy man!

AFTER THE THANKSGIVING DINNER.

Aching, aching man!
Skulking sadly along the street,
Loaded down with tidbits sweet,
With stuffed turkey, rich and fat,
Delicacies and all that—
Aching, aching man!

—Unidentified.

AVENGED AT LAST;

Or, a World-Wide Chase.

A STORY OF RETRIBUTION.

BY "WABASH."

[COPYRIGHT, 1890.]

(CHAPTER XII—CONTINUED.)

Belle Lorimer was thoroughly aroused now and she glared at her deceiver like a tigress. No remark escaped him, however, and under the pretence of not listening he continued writing with assumed indifference.

"It is such flint-hearted villains as you who make women's hearts grow cold also. You lead us on to hopes of a better and purer life only to dash them away when you throw us aside, as a child does a discarded toy.

"Yet you go forth into the world and a place in society is willingly made for you; respectful treatment meets you on all sides and your past actions are never referred to—while we poor women, who in an unguarded moment lay ourselves open to the censure of the world, are forever condemned, and the mud which smirches our garments leaves a stain which can never be washed out. Why is it so none can answer. All that the world does is to keep on throwing mud at the poor defenceless woman and lionize the demon who has caused her downfall."

"What has all that eloquence to do with the present case?" asked Mr. Emerick, looking up from his work.

"Every thing," replied the woman, who was now thoroughly exasperated. "You led me to believe that you were in earnest and now you tell me you were joking. Do you suppose I am going to submit to such treatment without a murmur? No, indeed. Either you marry me and take me with you to New York, or you do not go yourself. On that I am determined."

"I am interested to know how you will prevent me from going, my fair tigress," he replied.

"The means will be forthcoming," was the answer.

"My dear woman, you might as well attempt to stop the flow of the La Plata river as to try and thwart the plans of Julius Emerick. I shall go and nothing will prevent me—your interference will count as naught."

"The interference will not come from me directly," responded the actress.

"Then will you kindly inform me from what source I may expect it?" he asked.

"Yes, I will, and you shall have a chance of escape," was the woman's reply.

"Name the chance and you shall know my resolve in a moment," said Mr. Emerick.

"The actress was sitting on the opposite side of the desk and as she gazed at the heartless man before her she seemed to transfix him with her look. She was quieter now and calmly commenced:

"The other night there was a card party at your house." At these words he opened wide his eyes and said: "Yes, what of it?" The woman continued: "There was present at that party a handsome Englishman, and he caused a quarrel by accusing you and your friends of cheating him."

"Yes," replied the merchant, "that is so."

"Where is the Englishman now?" asked the actress.

"That is not in my power to tell; why do you ask me?" said Mr. Emerick.

"Because at daylight of the morning your part, broke up there was to have been a duel and since then the Englishman has not been seen. You know, or ought to know, where he is and unless he is soon found you and your friends will have to account for his absence. I am the only person in a position of the world who knows anything of the circumstances. [illegible] that [illegible]

[illegible]

"There is no fear of that," said the [illegible]

[illegible]

Mr. Emerick was now on his feet pacing [illegible] preparing a pipe to [illegible] of the woman. [illegible] and [illegible] "I am [illegible] rewarded you [illegible] with me to New York and [illegible] the pleasures which your heart desires. Then he kissed her, as she mentioned "And you will really marry me?"

"Yes, I will," he said.

In a moment the woman's whole expression changed showing that her denunciation of his conduct a few moments previously must have been sincere. Then a hasty conversation ensued, and arrangements in regard to their departure were discussed.

Soon afterwards Mr. Emerick locked his desk and they left the building together. After taking Belle Lorimer home in a hack, Mr. Emerick went to his club, wrote a letter and retired very anxious to pass off that night for he walked over to the post office and put it in the letter box. [illegible] of his to Viva Montevideo [illegible] the steamer.

On the morning of the third day after [illegible] interview with Mr. Emerick [illegible] the [illegible] was [illegible] to be [illegible] Mr. Emerick [illegible] the steamer.

[illegible]

[illegible] Mr. Emerick [illegible] the steamer [illegible] Montevideo [